Stay competitive by improving collaboration

As business technology advances, veterinarians are finding new ways to work more efficiently, lower costs, and improve the quality of care. As a specialist or emergency facility, technology can help you build stronger, more transparent relationships—the very lifeblood of practices like yours.

With rVetLink, you can:

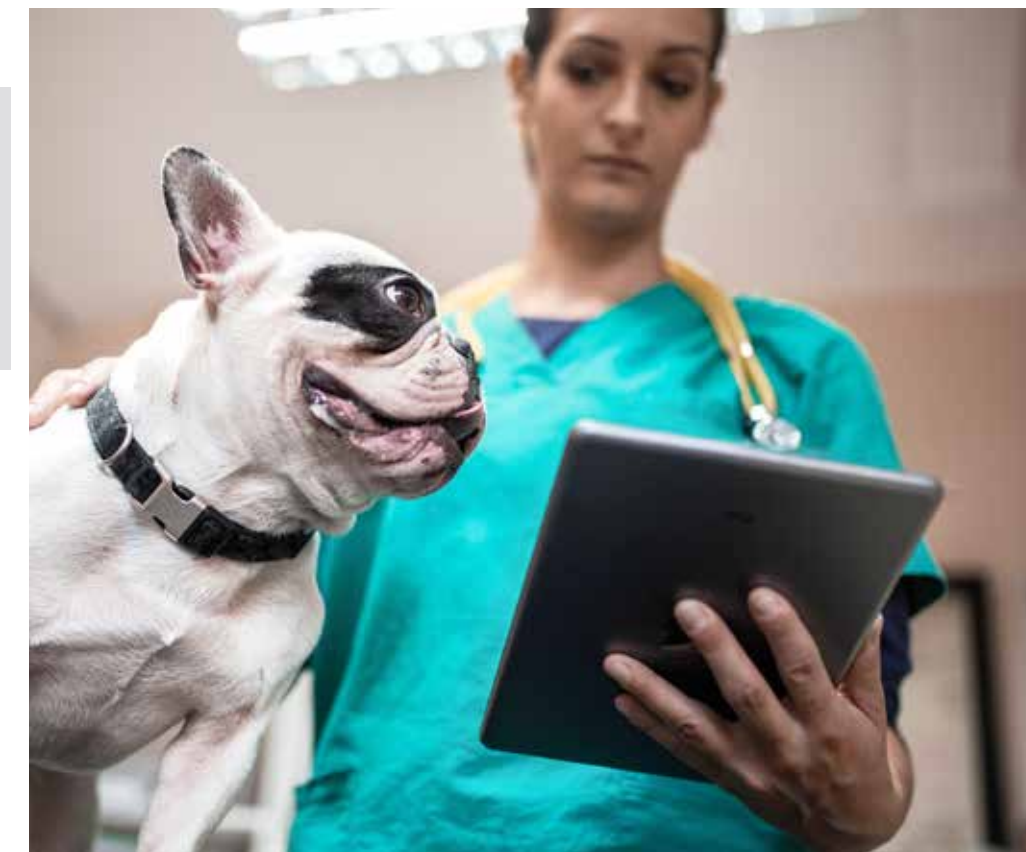

Give time back to staff through simplified referrals and automatic notifications to referring veterinarians at patient check-in, during their visit, and upon discharge.

Build trust with referring veterinarians by allowing them to set notification preferences and choose their preferred method of communication and by delivering anytime, anywhere record-sharing capabilities.

Help encourage compliance with referrals and care recommendations.

Stay top of mind with marketing tools for sharing best practices, news, and education events with referring practices in your area.

rVetLink integrates with today's most commonly used PIMS, including Cornerstone®, DVMAX®, ImproMed® Infinity, AVImark®, ezyVet, Signature, VIA software and others.

See what loyal users are saying

Give time back to staff

“ rVetLink dramatically reduced the amount of time that our staff spent scanning and faxing things. I think it has quickly become kind of the standard for automating communications with veterinarians. ”

David Bessler, DVM
Veterinary Emergency Group

Build trust with simplified sharing

“ The referral relationship is incredibly important, and if you damage that, it’s hard to recover. So if you’re not giving back information in a timely manner or making the process easy for the referring veterinarian to send a client your way, they’re not going to continue to do that. rVetLink has really changed our lives as far as sharing information goes. ”

Katie Lashbrook, Systems Administrator
Animal Medical Center

Enjoy easy implementation

“ When we implemented rVetLink, it was the only time that I didn’t get any negative pushback [from our staff], because all we did was make their lives easy. There was really no downside for our doctors because it just simplified their lives. ”

Shayne Gardner, Hospital Manager
Coral Springs Animal Hospital
